

CANADIAN CLUB LUNCHEON. Bernard K. Sandwell, of Montreal, will be the speaker at the next regular mid-day luncheon of the Canadian Club at the Waldorf on Tuesday, Jan. 27, at 12.30. He will speak on "Canada's Adjunct Theatre."

Even your walking stick or umbrella can act the part of a barometer. The handles before rain will reveal a slight deposit of moisture and be sticky to the touch. In this way the question as to whether it is wiser to take an unproven remedy or to wait until settled by the observant person by an examination of the article itself.

Especially "Obey."

"To oppose the new woman is like opposing the tide," said a bromide. Better still, it's like Calhoun Clay.

The speaker was Dr. Horace C. Newton, of Trenton, who has been for a long time championing the shabied skirt on the ground that it makes for a more graceful figure.

"Calhoun Clay," he resumed, "was generally known as Little and Lean, he stood at the altar beside a tall and robust bride of 180 pounds or more. To the surprise of the guests, he stood until, in the bride's reply, the words 'to love, honor and obey' were pronounced."

"At this juncture Bridegroom Calhoun Clay held up his right hand. A pause followed. 'Calhoun Clay said:—

"Excuse me, pabeen, but ah would have us wait a moment and let de folk solemnity o' de words sink in—especially de last two. 'It's been married before.'"

It is a waste of time to reason with the unreasonable.—New York American.

NOTHING DOING.

It is now certain that the Borden Government does not intend to do anything by way of relieving the people of their tax burdens with a view to reduce the high cost of living or to make it easier for people to get along. The Finance Minister, Hon. T. W. White, in the House the other day, explained the duty of the government in regard to the high cost of living and the fact that it had no remedy to offer, simply wait until things righted of their own accord. Last night, this policy of inaction and of doing nothing was emphasized by several Tory speakers. One Tory speaker, Donald Nicholson, of Prince Edward Island, not only opposed any relief of the people, but he exclaimed: "What's the use of protesting in favor of protection if we don't stand for it? Let us have bonuses for industries and good protection all round. We don't want to reduce the tariff. Let's dash away and spend the money." All the followers of Borden are not so outspoken as this gentleman, but their sentiments are similar. Take as much money from the people as possible, and spend as much money as they can. It is a prodigal, wasteful policy. The total estimates of the present Tory Government for the year ending March 31, 1914, last the total in the preceding year, $20,000,000. These estimates of expenditure do not include statutory expenditures, agricultural aid, railway subsidies, provincial subsidies, etc., all of which amount to $10,000,000. Including every item, estimates and statutory expenditures, the total expenditure of the Laurier Government for the year ending March 31, 1913, was $77,714,000. The controllable expenditure of the Borden Government this year is therefore almost exactly double that of the controllable and uncontrollable expenditure of the Laurier Government of 1911. Yet we had Mr. Borden denouncing the Liberals for their extravagance.

Notwithstanding the fact that the three Prairie Provinces have declared in favor of free wheat, and that not one Provincial Government or Legislature has asked for the reduction of the duty on wheat, Mr. Borden is not satisfied with the fact that he is not completely under the thumb of the Big Interests that he dare not take them on.

Many arguments are being used to try to prove that abolishing the duty on food products would not reduce the cost of living. But none of the arguments are yet set out to prove that their abolition would increase the cost of living. We are told that if the cost of living is high in Canada, it is high all over the world. The cost of living is higher than that of any other country, whereas it should be the cheapest. We are also told that there is financial stringency and all things are tight over the world. The statement is not true. Times are good in Great Britain. Never were better. There are fewer unemployed there than ever. There were Canadians returning from the old land declare that there is nothing the matter with the country; that the people are prosperous, and better off than ever they were.

Y. W. C. A. WORK.

The annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association of this city and the reports presented at this meeting show something of the great work being carried on by this organization in Hamilton, and of the boon it must be to the hundreds of young women, mostly strangers, who come to this city and find protection and a home. It is a duty to think that in the near future, when the needed additions are made to its building, it will be in a position to do more and better work. The organization is now in the process of raising money for the new building, and it is very much of a place that takes the place of the homes from which they come. Their physical, intellectual, social, business and spiritual welfare is the object, and everything done to make them not only feel at home but to be at home. Association with one another and with the ladies in charge must help to broaden the horizons of the young women, and the social side of the institution helps to brighten their everyday lives. Would it be too much to say that the social side would be better cultivated than the rooms themselves. It is time to the brothers and sisters and other young men, so that they could get acquainted the one with the other. There are few young girls who do not look forward with enthusiasm to the crowning glory of their lives, and some opportunities should be presented them to help them achieve their laudable ambition. The work of the Travelers' Aid appeals to us strongly, for we know that the girl who is at it is at a time that the girl most needs a friend when she is arriving in the city. Then she needs guidance and protection.

The Ottawa Citizen, speaking editorially of the meeting there of the Local Council of Women, says:

It is becoming more apparent every year that women are the natural better off it has been allowed to stay at home. The Times predicted months ago that too many old country people were being pushed into Canada.

Among the many stories going the rounds of the press since Lord Strathcona's death is the one relating to the story between Sir John Macdonald and himself just before Sir John's resignation resigned on account of the Pacific Railway scandal. Donald Smith was pretty much of an independent in politics, with conservative feelings, and there was much speculation as to how he would vote on Mr. Huntington's resolution. When at last Mr. Smith, in the course of his speech, announced that he would vote against the Government, Sir John lost his temper, and shouted that "I could kick Donald Smith as well as hell could scorch a feather." Sir John's resignation followed the next day.

No Quarrel With Them, But Problem Serious.

With Geo. C. Gopple presiding, a large number of the members of the Board of Trade gathered around well-appointed tables at the Waldorf Hotel last evening and partook of the inaugural dinner of the year. An added feature of the evening was the attendance of the Temple orchestra, and their rendition of popular selections was much appreciated. In a brief address, the chairman touched on the speaker who would be heard during 1914, concluding by introducing the speaker of the evening, Mr. A. S. Goodeve, of the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners.

Mr. Goodeve said that he was pleased to see the prominent gentlemen present at that great province of Western Canada, and throughout it all the applause greeted the speaker with such fact and sentiment was received.

Taking as his topic "Resources and Possibilities of British Columbia," he dealt with the relation in trade and commerce between the east and west, making it imperative that both should have advantage of every available opportunity to become familiar with the resources of the province.

The teams will line up as follows:

CENTENNIALS OSGOODE HALL
Goal Keeper: Scott
Left Defense: Riddell
Right Defense: Riddell
Center: Riddell
Right Wing: Riddell
Goalie: Riddell

The game is scheduled to start at 8:15 sharp, and in order to accommodate the large crowd, the entrance will be thrown open. In order to accommodate the ladies there will be no smoking allowed. The Osgoode Hall team have not won a game in their league this season, but that does not say that they are a poor team, by any means. The Centennials, who are grouped with the Osgoode Hall team, are a very fast, including the Kingston Frontenacs and such fast teams who have had good hockey records for years past. The Centennials, as everyone knows, have a very strong line of individual stars and if they show the same combination work they did on Wednesday night, they should be able to get away with a win. The Osgoode Hall team, however, they will be fifty per cent stronger and Manager Avery is looking forward to a win.

The Hamilton Hockey Club will leave for Simcoe tomorrow afternoon on the 5:30 train and will arrive in Simcoe about 7:30. The game will be played on the artificial ice. The hockey officials getting the owner of the rink to fix the place up and are reported that they have one of the best rinks on the circuit. The team that the hockey club will play against to-night will be the same one that was reported to drop out of the group on account of their being unable to secure ice.

Every player will take in the to-morrow, and the hockey club will be seen at their best, and suffering from a sore back and a baggy cut face as the result of coming in from the cold. The game will be played on Wednesday night, but he claims that he will be able to start tomorrow night.

The Junior team that represents the Hamilton Hockey Club will journey to Simcoe on Monday night, where they will play the Osgoode Hall team. If they get away with a win they have the group intact, which means that they will get into the semifinals. If they lose the game they will be forced to play on the artificial ice. The local team are practically hard and are confident of a win.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—Bellevue won last night's game at the Osgoode Hall, defeating the Hamilton team by the score of 6 to 3. The game was a close one, but Bellevue's goalkeepers were excellent, and the visitors had chances to score from a close range.

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—Secretary Martin Bennett of the Ottawa Hockey Club, stated last night that the Senators would put up a vigorous fight in the game against the Hamilton team. The Senators are a very strong team, and the Ottawa team is expected to be a close one.

Winter when our team was losing, but now that things have changed there appears to be a great hullabaloo about hockey. We certainly will refuse to accept any further additions to the playing rink.

Mr. Bennett is not in favor of the addition of the rink, but he thinks that there are other men in the league worse than him, and that it would be better to let the rink stay where it is.

We have watched Hall for many years, and he has learned that he plays clean hockey, if the other fellows don't do so. He has learned that he is a kick coming about the referee question. They maintain that President Quinn should be on the board, without excuse. The demand for seats for the Osgoode Hall game reminds one of the famous Ontario-Kenosha series eight years ago. It is believed that between 7,000 and 8,000 people will be in attendance, and that the rink will be replaced in its own right.

Stratford, Jan. 23.—In a minute overtime with Stratford coming up from behind the last twenty seconds the Stratford-Hamilton game, O.H.A. game seen this year. The half time tally stood 1 to 0 in favor of Stratford. The final 4 to 2. The time given Stratford the district honors.

The game was exceptional, and fast. Both teams fought doggedly through every stage of the game. Corbett, between visiting points for Stratford, played brilliantly, time and time again proving effective when an opposing player had deluded one from Manager Sills, for the enemy was one of the best on the ice. The Stratford defense was the hardest but the local lead to crack.

American Association to Strengthen Teams

Kansas City and Indianapolis Teams Will Be Made Stronger in Order to Fight Federals.

(By Times Special Wire)
Chicago, Jan. 23.—Measures relating to the invasion of their field by the Federal League may be taken up at today's meeting of owners and managers of the American Association. The owners are expected to select a committee to prepare the league's 1914 playing schedule.

The formal meeting of the association was to have been held yesterday, but was postponed because of the absence of Mike Cantillon, of the Minneapolis club. Cantillon was reported making over a lease for a baseball park site in the Chicago club, of that organization.

A plan to strengthen the Kansas City and Indianapolis teams, in whose fields the Federals will have been made, was discussed yesterday. A four-city schedule, with 108 games seemed to be favored by C. owners, but details will be left entirely with the league committee.

James Galloway, an infielder from Waco, Texas, signed with Indianapolis yesterday and Leo Murphy, a young pitcher, was signed by the Columbus club. James Sheekard, the former Chicago club player, is expected to sign as manager of the Toledo club today.
